Overview

Hangzhou, the capital of Zhejiang Province and one of China's seven ancient capitals, is a coastal city located roughly midway, north to south, along China's coastline, and a relatively close neighbor to Hangzhou, which lies 180 kilometers farther to the north.

Hangzhou is also situated at the mouth of the Qiantang River, and at the southern tip of the Jing-Hang Canal, aka Grand Canal, which extends all the way to Beijing, and which, having evolved over the centuries, finally reached its full length in CE 609, during the Sui (CE 581-617) Dynasty.

Although Hangzhou was originally founded during the Qin (BCE 221-207) Dynasty, it was first put on China's map, as it were, during the Sui Dynasty. Indeed, the city's walls were erected at the same time that the Grand Canal - the longest man-made waterway ever conceived - was under construction.

Clothing tip

In short, silk long johns and down jackets are needed in winter, an ice block for each armpit in summer and an umbrella wouldn't go astray in either of these seasons.

Best Time to Travel

Spring and autumn are the best seasons to travel to Hangzhou.

Between March and May Hangzhou is warm and comfortable for spring outings, the trees are green and flowers bursting into bloom. Zhouzhuang Water Town, Xitang Water Town, Tongli Water Town, Wuzhen Water Town and Suzhou are the best destinations to travel to as the places boast overwhelming spring scenery.

Autumn (September to November) is another good time to visit, perfect to enjoy the annual crab season against the golden backdrop of autumn colors.

West Lake

Without visiting West Lake (西湖), you cannot say you have been to Hangzhou. It is the most famous sight in Hangzhou since 1000 years ago. West Lake is very large with several causeways and verdant islets. It shows its charming in the spring when willow sitting along the bank wave in the breeze. Actually West Lake scenic area is much larger which refers to many spots around West Lake, such as Hubin Park, Bai Causeway and Solitary Hill.

Often there are most ten renowned spots since the South Song Dynasty (1127-1279). They are Su Causeway, Qu Yuan Feng He, Ping Hu Qiu Yue, Broken Bridge with Thawing Snow, Three Pools Mirroring the Moon, Leifeng Tower at the Sunset, Two Peaks Piercing the Clouds, Evening Bell Ringing at the Nanping Hill and Orioles Singing in the Willows.

However, most of them are seasonal. You can't see all of them in one time. What we recommend is to walk along the path in a clear day, take a boat ride on the West Lake leisurely and take a ferry to get to one of the island to visit. Boats and ferries are easy to take and tickets are available around the lake. In this way you may probably see most sights in your way.

- Add: West Lake Scenic Area, West Lake District, Hangzhou City
- Admission: Free
- Opening Hours: A whole day
- Getting there: Bus K7/K55/K194/60/15 reach there

Linyin Temple

Located at the northwest of West Lake, Linyin Temple (灵隐寺) belongs to West Lake Scenic Area. It is also called Yunlin Temple, which is one of the Three Most Famous Temples and the oldest temple in Hangzhou with a history of over 1,700 years. (It was built in 326 when an Indian monk called Hui Li brought Buddhism to Hangzhou.)

Literally the temple name refers to heart of soul's retreat, which shows that its surroundings are tranquil. However, you could see many worshipers there every day because they believe the Buddha do help their wishes come true. In front of the temple is Flying Peak (飞来峰), which is a very famous Buddhist grotto site. It is believed that the peak flew from India overnight demonstrating the Buddhist Law. There are numerous Buddhist images on the peak with different shapes.

As the temple sits at the foot of a hill, chairlifts are available for visitors to the top of the hill. For most visitors, they love to climb the hill themselves to enjoy the west lake view instead of taking the chairlift. Take note that one must buy the ticket for Flying Peak before entering the temple. It charges free for entering Flying Peak before 6:00 in the morning. 2 hours is enough for a comfortable visit.

- Add: No.1, Fayun Lane, West Lake District, Hangzhou
- Admission: 30 Yuan/person for Flying Peak, 45 Yuan/person for Linyin Temple, 40 Yuan/person for a round-way chairlift.
- Opening Hours: 07:00-18:15

Liuhe Pagoda

Sit on the Yuelun Hill overlooking Qiantang River, Liuhe Pagoda(六合塔) was built for suppressing Qiantang tide during the North Song Dynasty(960-1127). It is also called as Six Harmonious Pagoda. You could get a lovely view of the river by ascending to the top of the pagoda.

Now there is a new park set up near the pagoda with hundreds of replicas of the most renowned pagodas in China, reflecting cultures of different ancient dynasties and districts. There are also small trees before those pagoda models. The park aims at presenting the essence of Chinese pagoda culture, but arguments exists.

- Add: 16 Zhijiang Road, West Lake District
- Admission: 20 Yuan/person, an extra fee of 10 Yuan/person is needed for ascending to the top.
- Opening Hours: 06:30-17:30
- Getting there:

Take Bus NOs 2/K4/308/K504/Y5 and get off at Liuhe Pagoda Station(六合塔站).

Former Residence of Xueyan Hu

Built in 1872, the Former residence of Xueyan Hu (胡雪岩故居) was for Xueyan Hu, the richest Chinese man in his time. It covers an area of 5800 sq meters with an understated doorway but intricate and delicate internal design.

The lovely garden, the internal design, furniture and related materials are said to be the top 1 residence among all rich merchants in the Late Qing Dynasty. There are also many valuable collections in the antique houses, such as some famous stone-carved works of calligraphy by Bohu Tang and Banqiao Zheng. Two rare official palanquins made of red sandalwood are especially worth visiting.

Xueyan Hu was an incredibly wealthy man who had 13 wives and 19 kids. He even set up a Chinese pharmacy for the poor. While walking through the buildings and the garden, one could imagine the daily life of residents once living there.

- Add: No.18 Yuanbao Street, Shangcheng District, Hangzhou
- Admission: 20 Yuan/person
- Opening Hours: 08:00-17:30
- Getting there: Take Bus NO 8/13/308/Y6 and get off at Gulou Station (鼓楼站).

Prince Bay Park

Located southwest of West Lake, Prince Bay Park (太子湾公园) is very near Nanshan Road and Colored Port View Fish Garden. Story goes that the park was once the place for resting coffins temporary of 2 princes, thus comes the name Prince Bay Park. It is the earliest wedding theme park in Hangzhou and also the biggest one.

The park is planted numerous tulips which show their best during March and April, which is also the period for Sakura blossom. The view is really breathtaking. No wonder many locals like to go there to take wedding photography or hold their sweet weddings. It is also a good place for a walk with families and just let kids run happily. It may take half a day to walk over every part of the place if you would like to try. October is also a good time to visit there when most tree leaves turn into red or yellow color. The whole park looks like a golden fairy world. The grand lawn is especially for an afternoon picnic with friends or families leisurely.

- Add: Taiziwan Gate, Nanshan Road, Xihu District, Hangzhou
- Admission: Free
- Opening Hours: A whole day
- Getting there:

Take Bus NOs 4/31/315/514b/514/k822/y2 and get off at Sudi Station (苏堤站).

Qinghefang Ancient Street

Qinghefang Ancient Street (清河坊历史文化街) is the best preserved old ancient block in Hangzhou, which was once the political, business and cultural center from the Yuan Dynasty(1271-1368) to the period before Chinese Liberation Period (1946--1949). It is located at the foot of Wushan Hill, which adds natural charming to this area. Now it is a fun and fascinating pedestrian street for different local snacks, handcrafts and small museums.

Many antique buildings were from the Late Ming and Early Qing Dynasty. Today the street is full of teahouse, famous old stores and curio stalls. Get a local pancake for several bites, have delicious mutton soup in an old restaurant, sip local tea in a teahouse, grab some local handcraft on the stalls, walk into some museums to get a glimpse of culture and history in this area like Zhang Xiaoquan Scissors and Wangxing Ji Fan Store. The street is also home of several traditional pharmacies like Huqingyu Tang Chinese Medicine Museum offering the exhibition of traditional Chinese Medicine and clinic service.

- Admission: Free
- Opening Hours: A whole day
- Getting there:

Take Bus NO. 35 or Tourism Bus NO.6 and get off at Gaoyin Street Station (高银街站).

Wuzhen Ancient Water Town

Located in Tongxiang, Wuzhen Ancient Water Town (乌镇) is between Shanghai, Suzhou and Hangzhou City. It is only one and a half hour driving time from Hangzhou, which makes it the best place for visitors in Hangzhou who have one or two days for a side trip.

The village is a living water town museum that still has real people living there, adding charm to the town. With a history of over 1,300 years, the ancient town now shows what a typical southern water town looks like between the Late Qing Dynasty (1840—1911) and the Republic of China (1912-1949) with over 30 stone bridges linking streets lining many old buildings.

Different museums and traditional workshops are specialty of the town. The east side provides fun museums like ancient beds, wine-making, indigo fabric, shadow play, woodcarving and local operas. Wuzhen west offers sauce workshop, iron factory, foot-binding culture museum, old post office and so on. Most visitors choose to stay in Wuzhen Scenic part. It is convenient to check in at the Visitor Center and take a free ferry boat to the booking room.

- Add: Wuzhen Town, Tongxiang City, Zhejiang Province

Xitang Water Town

Xitang (西塘) is an ancient scenic town in Jiashan County, Zhejiang Province. It is an ancient and distinctive town attracts people particularly those are tired of city life.

Layout

Xitang is densely distributed with rivers and has a very quiet natural environment. There are 9 rivers across the town and divide it into 8 parts. However, many old-fashioned stone bridges were built to link these parts together. In the older parts of town, the buildings are set along the banks of the canals, which serve as the main transportation thoroughfares in the area.

Xitang also contains numerous antique residences and temples, such as the Temple of the Seven Masters. The town keeps a tranquil ambience and scenic beauty, making it a very popular tourist attraction. The most beautiful moments of Xitang happen in the early morning and at the dusk. It is suggested that visitors take their cameras to capture splendid sceneries in the town.

Recommended Restaurant—Leguo Restaurant

Leguo Restaurant (乐国酒家) was built in 1921, situated in Shaoxiang bay, Xitang. In the old days, three poet recited poems and drunk for three days long. Nowadays, the Leguo restaurant gets larger and provides more delicacies and drinks. The yellow wine is still as good as the old days

- Add: Jiashan Town of Zhejiang Province
- Admission: 100 Yuan
- Getting there:

For visitors in Shanghai and Hangzhou can take a train or bus to Jiapu. Buses go to Xitang set out every five minutes in the Jiapu station. In addition, visitors in Shanghai can take special bus line from Jiapu to Meilong. It takes visitors about 70 minutes.

Impression of Westlake Show

Impression of West Lake (印象西湖) is an amazing show worth watching when traveling to Hangzhou. Directed by Zhang Yi Mou, who was the director of the opening ceremony for 2008 Beijing Olympic Games and also directed Impression Sanjie Liu, the show is put on by a cast of 250 locals dancing at the stage. The stage is submerged half in the West Lake and takes the beautiful backdrop of pagodas and temples.

The hour-long show presents the famous Ten Sights of West Lake on the stage. In fact the whole performance consists of several story lines by showing different ancient stories and famous people. If you are not familiar with the culture, it is not easy to understand. However, that does not affect your experience in this excellent show combining amazing lights and music. By the way, the enchanting music of Kitaro adds charm to the show.

The seats are in the open air and there are cheap tickets and VIP seats. Actually do not waste money on pricier tickets. There is not much difference between them. A cheap ticket will just maximize your time. Spring maybe a little bit cold and in summer night remember to use the repellent.

- Add: No.29, Yanggongdi, Hangzhou City
- Show time: 19:45-20:45; 21:15-22:15
- Price: 260 Yuan/person for ordinary seats
- Getting there: Take Bus Nos 7/27/81 and get off at Yumiao Station(岳庙站).

Hangzhou Songcheng

In the southwest of West Lake Scenic Area, Songcheng (宋城) is the most popular theme park in China. There are many castles in the park creating actual feeling of the Song Dynasty, which makes one feel walking back to those times and experience the same.

After those castle walls local Hangzhou street foods are provided. In the park you will see some people dress up like ancient soldiers going around on horses. Many funny activities like Ghost House, Puppet Shadow Play and Tunnels are offered. What you should really expect is the theater show after 19:00!

The shows tells a love story of how the leadership of the Song Dynasty beat back the invasion from Tibet and Mongolia by music, dancing, visuals and fancy costumes with a cast of about 150 actors. Four acts make up the whole show. Each chapter will have a short line in English explaining the act. Given the splendor of the show, a few explanations are enough.

- Add: No.148, Zhijiang Road, Hangzhou City
- Opening Hours: 10:00-21:00 for the theme park and 19:00 for the show
- Admission: 280 Yuan/person for the ordinary seat; 300 Yuan/person for VIP seat and 480 Yuan/person for VVIP Seat. The fee includes the admission and the night show.

- Getting there:

Take Bus No Y4/Y5/Sightseeng 8/201/308/354/504/658 and get off at Songcheng Stop (宋城站).

What to Eat in Hangzhou

Grandma's Restaurant (Hubin Road)

Grandma's Restaurant (外婆家) is almost recommended by everybody in town and when you go there, you will not be wrong. They have several locations in the city but what we recommend is the one on Hubin Road since it takes the backdrop of West Lake. They offer yummy local Hangzhou food at very reasonable price. A bowl of Ma Po Dou fu only takes you 3 Yuan!

Every dish worth trying and specialties are chili shrimp, tea flavored chicken, Grandma's fish balls, Mapo Tofu (hot and spicy tofu), and dessert made with fresh lotus seeds and sticky rice. Different kinds of tea they offer are also very tasty and you could have them for free. Environment and service are surely worth every penny. The menu is friendly with westerners as there are many nice pictures for you to order. You may need to wait for 20 minutes or even an hour after you get the waiting number.

Luckily it is situated near West Lake which will not let you bored as you could walk around the lake leisurely. Some free snacks are prepared for customers who would like to sit there and wait. When go to Hangzhou, make sure you do not miss it!

- Add: 2F, No.3 Hubin Road, Shangcheng District, Hangzhou
- Opening Hours: 10:00-22:30
- Price Range/person: $10
- Getting there:

Take Bus NOs 25/ 55/206/212/216/ 251/ 290/900/ k105/ k7/ k92/ y1/y8 and get off at Hubin Stop (湖滨站).

Weizhuang Zhiweiguan Restaurant (Yanggongdi)

If you are looking for some Hangzhou local snacks in a good environment, you will not be wrong in Weizhuang Zhiweiguan Restaurant(知味观.味庄). It is an old restaurant with a history of 100 years. Specialized in making local snacks and dishes, Zhiweiguan has several locations in Hangzhou. Weizhuang Zhiweiguan Restaurant on Yanggongdi Road is the most popular one as it is near West Lake Colored Port View Fish Garden.

Six stiles make up the restaurant in tranquil surroundings. Must-try dishes there are

Sugar vinegar pork ribs, Dragon Well Tea Cake, duck and Braised sliced pork. Though most staff cannot speak English, they offer English menu which might help you have some ideas of what the dish may look like.

Hangzhou Railway Station

Hangzhou is an important railroad junction in East China. The Huhang Railway (from Guangdong to Hangzhou), the Zhegan Railway (from Zhejiang to Jiangxi) and the Xuanhang Railway (from Anhui to Hangzhou) join here.

Hangzhou Railway Station, which is also called “City Station” by local people, is the most important railway station in Hangzhou. Most of the trains departing from and terminating their route in Hangzhou will stop here. It is located at the intersection of East City Ring Road (环城东路) and West Lake Avenue (西湖大道). From the Hangzhou Railway Station, it only takes 10 minutes to go from West Lake Avenue to West Lake by bus.

Hangzhou Railway Station is divided into three floors: the bottom floor, the middle floor and the elevated floor. The bottom floor is a parking lot where taxis and private cars can park. The middle floor is the Hall and Station Plaza where pedestrians and buses can meet. The elevated floor is used to send passengers off.

The Station Plaza consists of two floors below ground level: Lower Ground One and Lower Ground Two. The underground area measures 16,500 square meters in which there are two underground garages for civil defense projects.

The two garages which are affiliated with Shanghai Railway Bureau (the station’s supervising office) occupy an area of about 6,200 square meters. It is a first-class station that consists of a North Ticket Hall and a South Ticket Hall, five regular waiting rooms, one waiting room for passengers with soft-seat tickets, and seven platforms.
